PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On July 15, 2004, a second amended information was filed in Monterey County Superior Court accusing petitioner of lewd acts upon a child under Penal Code section 288(a)<sup>1/2</sup> (count 1, John Doe; counts 2-3, Jane Doe); and an attempted lewd act upon Jane Doe (count 4, §§ 664/288(a)). Infliction of great bodily injury under section 12022.7 was alleged as to count 1. Allegations were made under sections 667.61(a) and 667.61(b) as to counts 1-3. A prior prison term under section 667.5(b) was also alleged. CT 131.<sup>2/2</sup>

On July 15, 2004, petitioner was found guilty of counts 1 and 2, and not guilty of counts 3 and 4. Allegations under sections 667.61(a) and 667.61(b) were found true. CT 148, et seq.

On September 10, 2004, petitioner was sentenced 25 years to life on count 1, with a concurrent term of 15 years to life on count 2. CT 199.

On December 16, 2005, the California Court of Appeal filed its opinion affirming the judgment. See Exh. C.

On or about January 25, 2006, petitioner filed his Petition for Review in the California Supreme Court. See Exh. D. On March 1, 2006, that court denied the Petition for Review. See Exh.

E. Proceedings in this Court followed.

ARGUMENT

THE PETITION IS UNTIMELY

The petition in this case is, on its face, untimely. Petitioner advances no reason why this untimeliness should be excused. Accordingly, this Court should dismiss the petition.

As we stated in the procedural history, the California Supreme Court denied the Petition

- 1. All code citations are to the California Penal Code unless otherwise noted.
- 2. Citations to "CT" are to the Clerk's Transcript in the California Court of Appeal. Citations to "RT" are to the Reporter's Transcript in that court. Because we believe there are no serious disputes as to the procedural or factual history of this case at this time, we have not included the clerk's or reporter's transcripts with this filing. We will, of course, forward those documents to this Court should it so request.

petitioner's one-year statute of limitations under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d) began running, 90 days later, on May 30, 2006, when the time to file a petition for writ of certiorari expires. See Bowen v. Roe, 188 F.3d 1157 (9th Cir. 1999) for Review in this case on March 1, 2006. According to settled case law, the case was final, and Petitioner filed his petition in this case on November 14, 2007. That petition was filed six months after the expiration of the one-year statute of limitations, on May 30, 2007.

It is true that petitioner did file a pleading in this Court after the denial of the Petition for Review in the California Supreme Court. However, that filing did not toll the statute. Duncan v. Walker, 533 U.S. 167, 181-82 (2001). Nor did that filing even constitute a petition. See Woodford v. Garceau, 538 U.S. 202 (2003). In case No. 07-2643, petitioner filed a motion for extension of time to file habeas corpus petition, see docket No. 1 in that case. This Court has twice ruled that that pleading did not form a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus. In docket No. 4 of 07-2643, this Court stated that it could not "discern from the instant filing whether petitioner can meet even the most basic requirements for proceeding with a habeas petition in federal court . . . . Consequently, the motion will not be construed as a habeas petition." Again, in docket No. 6 of 07-2643, this Court repeated that it had "declined to construe the motion as a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, because petitioner had not alleged any grounds for habeas relief, and it was clear that he was not asking for relief from his conviction but, rather, from the statute of limitations." Accordingly, nothing petitioner filed in 07-2643 had any effect on the running of the statute of limitations in this case. The first significant filing with respect to the statute of limitations was the filing of the Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus in this Case, 07-5767, which occurred on November 14, 2007. Plainly, that petition was filed more than six months after the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations. Petitioner has stated no reason why he should be excused or forgiven from the requirements of that statute. Accordingly, the current petition is untimely, and should be dismissed.
